LOCAL TRIBUNALS TO EXEMPT

No Special Occupation Will Be Privileged Throughout Country.

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—No special occupations will receive exemption when men are called to the colors under the Military Service Act. In Great Britain certain occupations were certified and a man so occupied received conditional exemption.
But, while conditional exemption—i. e. exemption granted so long as the man remains at a specific occupation—may be granted by a local tribunal in Canada, there will be no trades or occupations granted exemption as a whole. This declaration, it is understood, has been definitely reached, and local tribunals will be guided by it.

It is pointed out here that the Military Service Act does not provide for the listing of occupations especially calling for exemption.
The plan was not found to work satisfactorily in England. Further, the extreme variation in conditions existing in different parts of Canada, render such a plan impracticable here. In considering a claim for exemption, a tribunal will regard national interest as the primary factor. A man's occupation will be a factor of first importance in determining whether or not he will be dealt with on its merits.

A leader will not be able to get exemption by claiming that he is employed in one of the basic industries.
The Military Service Council has received letters from many sections throughout Canada offering to place municipal buildings at the disposal of exemption tribunals free of charge. Such expressions of desire to co-operate in making the administration of the act a success are regarded as highly encouraging.

Further reports from the various municipal districts show that the medical boards are kept busy with voluntary applications for physical examinations. The board of selection which chooses one member of each local tribunal, meets again in Ottawa early next week to complete its lists. A week or so later, it is anticipated, a call will be published under the Military Service Act, and all men coming within the first class are requested to report for service to file a claim for exemption.

About three weeks will be allowed after the publishing of the filing of applications for exemption. The delay in which appeals from the decision of a local tribunal may be made considerably shorter.
The Military Service Act provides for the calling up of 100,000 men, but it is not proposed to summon so large a number to the colors immediately. In all probability, the men will be called in drafts of 20-000 or so.

Following are the details as to how their work will be allowed
in which appeals from the de-
made considerably shorter.

HELP FROM THE PATRIOTIC FUND

Men Selected Under the Military Service Act are Assured of it by Resolution

Ottawa, Oct. 3.—It is now known that, so far back as June, 1917, the executive committee of the Canadian Patriotic Fund had decided to grant the same assistance to the men selected under the Military Service Act as to the men already enlisted, in the matter of payments to dependents. One June 14, 1917, at a meeting in Ottawa, the executive committee of the Fund passed a resolution providing that, in the event of the Government's passing and enforcing legislation providing for a measure of selective drafting, the dependents of the men so selected "shall be entitled to the same assistance as the dependents of the men who have volunteered." Under the Military Service Act of 1917, of course, with the first class unmarried men and widowers without children, not a great many are expected to require assistance for dependents from the Patriotic Fund although each case will be considered carefully.

With assistance, where needed, from the Patriotic Fund, the men selected under the Military Service Act will receive every convenience and right of the men already enlisted. Their status will be assured.

GENERAL CHAUTAUQUA STORY

Thirty years ago began a movement at Chautauqua Lake, N. Y., which now includes 5,000 annual assemblies in Canada and the U. S.
It brings the highest class of instruction, inspiration and entertainment to over 12,000,000 people, who could not secure such remarkable program were it not for the modern Chautauqua system. The greatest talent is thus secured at the ends of the earth and brought into towns and communities of all sizes, whenever public spirited citizens are willing to make it possible by guaranteeing the sales of enough season tickets to barely cover the expenses. Some of the talent brought to Drumheller on Oct. 9-10-11-12 had to be secured two or three years in advance.

Chautauqua is primarily a builder of civilization, not a money making enterprise. It is maintained by local associations all over Canada and the U. S. and is now beginning to spread to England, Australia and other countries. To be seen on the Chautauqua map has come to be an indication of culture and civil enterprise.

We are proud to announce that the Chautauqua Festival attractions this year will include the Royal Hawaiian Quartet; Julius Caesar Nayprie, in "The Oriental Pageant"; Lelia M. Bloomfield, in "Stories and Customs of New Zealand"; Capt. W. J. Hindley, lecturer, on the "Rein of the Common People"; the Chautauqua Festival Orchestra; and Walter B. Stern, with his lecture, "The Far Country."

53 BUSHELS TO THE ACRE

J. B. Mitchell, one of Munson's prosperous farmers who resides 2 miles west of town finished threshing last week and off of a 50 acre field of summer fallow got a yield of 53 bushels of Marquis wheat to the acre. Although the season has been pretty dry, this is an example of what can be grown in the Munson district by summer fallowing and with limited moisture.

FARM HOUSE BURNS

About 10.30 Tuesday night the farm house of A. Frith, who resides about 6 miles east of town, was destroyed by fire together with practically all the contents. The fire was caused by a lamp which Mr. Frith was carrying across the room, when she tripped on the carpet breaking the lamp and the oil caught on fire. The flames spread so rapidly they only had time to get the children out and saved a few clothes and a cream separator

GREAT BRITAIN MORE THAN PROUD OF WAR EFFORTS OF THE DOMINIONS

GREAT SACRIFICES IN THE CAUSE OF THE EMPIRE

Right Hon. Walter Long Pays a Warm Tribute to the Part Played by the Dominions in Carrying On the War for Defence of Empire and the Cause of Democracy

In the British house of commons during discussion of the colonial vote Right Hon. Walter Long, secretary of state for the colonies, paid a warm tribute to the overseas armies of the British Dominion. Mr. Long said that the empire played by the Dominions and crown colonies in the war was well known to the world and especially to the enemy. They had made their mark. Whether they came from Australia, New Zealand, Canada or South Africa, they had shown themselves to be the best traditions of the British army, and no greater praise than that could be bestowed on any.

He was constantly receiving proof of the addition of the Dominion to Great Britain, in the loyalty to the king and their devotion to British interests. In the Dominion of British East Africa, the Dominion Association of Zanzibar. Referring to the Dominion of Zanzibar, he said that the Dominion was a small state, but it was not the amount but the spirit of the gift that mattered.

The Dominions had made great sacrifices in other directions. Many of the Dominions had suffered severely, owing to the war. Imports into the United Kingdom, although many people failed to realize the magnitude of the sacrifice, had been reduced. The Dominion of British East Africa, for example, had made a very heavy war expenditure and had suffered severely. The Dominion of British East Africa, for example, had made a very heavy war expenditure and had suffered severely.

He pointed out the great difficulties of the more remote parts of the empire. The natives were untrained for labor. The Dominion of British East Africa, for example, had made a very heavy war expenditure and had suffered severely. The Dominion of British East Africa, for example, had made a very heavy war expenditure and had suffered severely.

He mentioned that the Dominion of British East Africa, for example, had made a very heavy war expenditure and had suffered severely. The Dominion of British East Africa, for example, had made a very heavy war expenditure and had suffered severely.

Effective Strength of Army

Estimated Strength of Canadian Expeditionary Force on June 30, 1918

According to a statement prepared by the military department at Ottawa on the request of Mr. A. R. Maclean, M.P., the total "effective strength" of the Canadian Expeditionary Force on June 30 last was 256,993 out of total enlistments the same date of 434,856. The "non-effective strength" is given as 178,863. Total enlistments up to the end of July were 106,492.

Details of the "effective strength" are given as follows: In Canada, 475,715; in England, 100,539; in France, 132,279; in New Zealand, and "in the field" 756.

Details of the non-effective strength are given as follows: In Canada, 100,539; in England, 132,279; in France, 132,279; in New Zealand, and "in the field" 756.

Metric System Needed

Need of an International Standard of Weights

When the war is ended we shall have greater need, than ever before, of an international standard of weights and measures. The Dominion of British East Africa, for example, had made a very heavy war expenditure and had suffered severely.

He mentioned that the Dominion of British East Africa, for example, had made a very heavy war expenditure and had suffered severely. The Dominion of British East Africa, for example, had made a very heavy war expenditure and had suffered severely.

The Home An Economic Asset

Labor Savers Necessary to Home Life on the Farm

A certain proportion of success in the home life on the farm depends on the living quarters of the family and workers, and it also depends on the stock of commodities of farm life. "Probably too far from the truth," says Mr. Long, "to realize the part that womanly play has played in the war."

He mentioned that the Dominion of British East Africa, for example, had made a very heavy war expenditure and had suffered severely. The Dominion of British East Africa, for example, had made a very heavy war expenditure and had suffered severely.

To convince the War Lords that the Game is Up, the margin grows narrow. The war may run another year, but few believe that either side can hold out longer than that. There is the dire possibility, too, that the steady drain of the Allies' capital ships, perhaps near spring, if nothing breaks before then, will leave the British fleet in a position of weakness.

FROCKS THAT SOLVE THE PROBLEM OF SMARTNESS AND PRACTICALITY

Proving the Charm of Figured Challis

Quite a Modish Feature is the Vestee

The Guimpe Dress Personifies Youth

AND now the thoughts of mothers are turning schoolward, even tho the little daughters of mothers may not be thinking of the days when they will be living according to rule. But what wonder that the mothers are thoughtful—they have to prepare the wardrobe for the kiddies and have reason to be on the lookout for the most sensible and stylish things that can be had for the occasion. There may be a few left-overs from the summer wardrobe, but the active girl is sure to have very few of her summer frocks in good enough condition to attend school. For the first school days cool frocks will be needed. In fact, the wise mother lets her children wear the thin washable frocks all year round, knowing that heated buildings and warm outer coats make the thin fabrics sufficiently comfortable during the cold weather.

Very attractive and most suitable is the guimpe frock of voile. This style seems to be particularly suited to the growing figure. The guimpe is of white voile tucked and finished with a flat collar and a black bow that is sure to appeal to any schoolgirl. The touch of hand embroidery is something that also holds attraction for the schoolgirl with sufficient feminine vanity.

Doesn't the figured challis frock make every last mother wish she were a little girl again? This model is particularly charming because of the quaint puffed pockets and the cunning short sleeves. Blue smocking is a pleasing form of trimming.

Developed in pongee the frock of that color is most practical. Large pockets and a wide belt along with a few buttons form a stylish trimming. Simple chain stitching in a contrasting color completes the decorations. White organdie and valenciennes lace are used for the collar and cuffs.

Yielding to the craze for vestees, the little brown linen model uses an edging of embroidery for the purpose. More of the edging trims the white collar and cuffs. Smocking in contrasting colors is an important feature of the frock.

Decidedly simple and smart is the pink-and-white dress. The tucked shirtwaist reminds one of the shirtwaist little brother wears with his Oliver Twist suit. White voile has been chosen for the frock and handkerchief linen for its trimming.

Don't forget, mothers, that children appreciate being consulted regarding their likes and dislikes for certain styles. Give them an opportunity to make a selection. They can't go wrong with such a variety before them.
